

You are not alone

1 in 2 Australians experience clinical levels of anxiety or depression at some point in their lives.

Feelings of stress, worry, panic, fear and sadness are normal responses to life's challenges. But when they happen too often, we can fall into habits and cycles that stop us living the life we want.

We can help build your resilience.

How can PORTS help?

Our friendly, highly trained team of psychologists and mental health clinicians are here to help people aged 16+ across WA, troubled by mild to moderate anxiety, depression or substance use.

We reduce barriers to traditional psychological care by being:

✓ FULLY GOVERNMENT FUNDED

Which means our services are free and no mental health care plan is required.

✓ FAST TO RESPOND

After your assessment is complete, a therapist will call you within 1-3 business days.

✓ CONVENIENT

You can undertake treatment securely via telephone or online from the comfort of your own home, or opt into face-to-face therapy.

Get started with PORTS in 3 easy steps

1 Ask your GP or Healthcare Professional for a referral

Simply talk to them about how you want to make changes in your life and ask for a referral to PORTS.

2 We'll assess your needs

To help us get to know a little bit more about how we can help you, one of our therapists will call you within 1-3 business days to invite you to complete an online or telephone assessment.

3 Get treatment, start feeling better

One of our therapists will contact you to discuss and recommend treatment options tailored to your assessment.

How we work with you to build resilience

We will recommend a treatment plan based on your individual needs and circumstances. It may include:

Telephone treatment sessions

Delivered by one of our therapists securely by telephone.

Online courses

8 week, therapist-guided online courses designed to build resilience and emotional well-being for the long term.

Face-to-face therapy

Access to up to 6 free face-to-face sessions if online or telephone treatment is not suitable.
